Sharon, how is this presentation different from the slides that were provided after the W&W 2? Is this a remake of the presentation since the video did not render as expected?

I ask because it seems that you may not know that some of us have already reviewed the second presentation slides, in addition to watching or attending the first W&W event.

Thanks,
Nancy

Since many of you were unable to attend Moms for Liberty's presentation on the findings of Wit & Wisdom, I've attached a YouTube video for your convenience and review. While the time allotted for public comment during last night's board meeting is very much appreciated, it wasn't long enough for you to grasp the depth of troubling materials being presented to young, defenseless children in the Wit & Wisdom curriculum. A team of concerned parents purchased each book in the curriculum, read each book cover-to-cover and read each teacher's manual. I urge each of you to please watch this presentation. The ramifications of not replacing Wit & Wisdom will most assuredly result in lawsuits, loss of revenue due to parents pulling their children out of WCS, not to mention destroying the innocence of our children. As a concerned mother and a tax payer, I have done everything I know to do to draw your attention to this serious issue. Only a few of you have taken notice. The rest of you are either guilty by commission or omission, both are regrettable and break the WCS Code of Ethics you are sworn to uphold.
