I can't speak to WCS policy, but know Jason's probably pretty busy with the start of school. I can tell you that my son was not asked this question, so it would not appear this is a WCS directive.

Ok thank you for this Jason.

On another note, some parents are complaining that their children were asked to "name their pronouns" on the first day of school Friday. Is this is new directive from WCS?

Kindest Regards,

Gregg

Jason,

With school starting next week, could you give us an update on the review committees progress? Has the committee met with the citizens to discuss their concerns?

Thanks!

Gregg

Ms. Steenman,

As you know, WCS is following its review process. It may not be the immediate decision you want, but the committee review is proceeding professionally and according to WCS policy.
