

From: Fly Five <[REDACTED]>
Sent: 9/30/2021 3:36:30 PM
To: Jason Golden <[REDACTED]>
Subject: Nurturing socially responsible students

---

FLY FiVE®

The Social and Emotional Learning Curriculum

From the SEL Library

---

Dear JASON,

Social responsibility encourages individuals to become engaged, caring members of their school and community, and schools can take steps to foster students' understanding of this concept. This article explores the concept of social responsibility and how it relates to diversity, equity, inclusion, and representation in classrooms.

Fly Five: The Social and Emotional Learning Curriculum supports students in developing social responsibility and other essential SEL skills. Fly Five's lessons are easy to follow and implement so that teachers can focus on creating sustainable conditions for their students' continued academic, social, and emotional growth.

View Article!

Visit the Fly Five website and learn more about how Fly Five nurtures socially responsible students.

---

To receive articles like this as they are published, sign up for the Fly Five Newsletter!

Sign Up Now!

---

Follow Us on Social Media

Center for Responsive Schools, Inc., 85 Avenue A, PO Box 718, Turners Falls, MA 01376

Unsubscribe Manage preferences

